Billy Sunday On 'Prayers'

Tells Congregation How Many Persons Insult God—Won't Make Sacrifices

(New York Mail)

"You think God sees every time you pray, 'Thy Kingdom come' and then 'not willing to make it come.' Billy Sunday told the tabernacle congregation this afternoon in his sermon on the efficacy of prayer.

"How do I know God will answer prayer? Who tells the birds to fly south when winter approaches? Who tells them to fly back when it begins to get warm? If God would disappoint a bird or a bee or a squirrel, He will answer your prayers."

Concluding his sermon the evangelist quoted a child:

"No God dead, papa?"

"No, Honey, why?"

"I don't hear you talk of him as you used to and I thought maybe He was dead."

He took as his text St. James v. 18:

"The effectual and fervent prayer of a righteous man avails much."

"Prayer helps us to realize the presence of God, better than in any other way. If you can do anything to make Him realize the presence of God, do it. Draw him into your life and He will draw you into His. In the secret of His presence He will enable you to abide in the busy matters of life, behind the scenes, behind your work, in the homes, and wherever we are, we are trying to help us to realize the presence of God."

How Prayers Help

"Prayer helps you realize your dependence upon God. Jesus Christ is not weak and he will break his back on God. Jesus spent whole nights in prayer, and as He would come down from His all-night vigils, multitudes pressed upon Him, for healing power and virtue went out from Him. It was after one of His all-night vigils and as a result of prayer that He did those important things in His life. Those twelve men who were His disciples, who formed the nucleus of the church, the twelve, the people present upon Him for His healing, and He fed the 5,000 hungry in the desert. He healed the blind, the lame, the dumb, the deaf and taught those multitudes of people that we call the Sermon on the Mount, the like of which the world has never heard and never will hear again.

"Used a night in prayer, people of New York, and you'll see wonderful results. The trouble with people to-day is they are not willing to pray. They are not willing to make the sacrifice for God. Look the church of God stop grumbling and quiet getting out of the way for a day and a night, and you will realize the history of the United States."

"Prayer! When you get up from your knees you are not ready to look at the world as you would through the looking of a better place. You are the people whose souls are most open and responsive, my friends, to the spirit of God. It's the crowd who are up holding the hands of the preacher in the prayer meeting."

Prayer opens your soul and makes you responsive and receptive to the influence of God. Many a preacher tried to win souls to Jesus Christ, but he was disappointed and his hands are raised in a gesture of prayer. No wonder some people wither and are powerless to resist."

Insult to Drop in Nickel

"They have got a lot of people in the church that never darken the door of a prayer meeting. It's an insult to God to pray 'Thy Kingdom come' and when the collection plate is passed they stick and have a hundred dollars in the bank. They stand there and go to sleep."

Billy Sunday made a twenty-minute talk in the tabernacle last night that was worth $100,000 to the American Committee for Argentina and the British Committee for Argentina. That amount was collected in places and cities and big missionary relief on the evangelist's part.

"Thank you, Lord," prayed Billy Sunday at the end of the meeting.

"New York is 50,000 times nearer heaven than that was an hour ago; but that's not much, because as it is, we have given the devil pneumonia, pericarditis and cold feet and we have sent him scurrying away with his tail between his legs."

Sam. M. Ballou and Martha Jordan can still go around the world and talk to the world.

If the Allies stick together and act as they stick, the Kaiser may also find himself alone.

To be a young man it isn't necessary to be self-sufficient.

Men of Belleville --try this new shaving experience

Men, will you try it? Your face has all to gain and you're not losing to lose, for Mennen's is the best of Shaving Soap—it is a scientific preparation that takes three years' experiment to produce the right formula.

ARE you game to make this experiment? Try Mennen's Shaving Cream to-day, or to-morrow morning.

Never mind if you happen to have half a cake or half a stick of shaving soap on hand now. That will keep. You can go back to it later if you want to.

It isn't a case of switching from one fairly good soap to another fairly good soap. Mennen's Shaving Cream will give you an entirely new shaving experience. See if we are not right.

Mennen's is more than simply a soap—it is a practical, scientific cream whose larger softens the beard and leaves the face cool and comfortable. Mennen's doesn't dry on the face nor does it require "rubbing in."

Here is the process: Wet your brush in water and hold it over your face. Squeeze half an ounce of Mennen's Cream into it—work up into a rich, creamy lather. Then you will find for yourself more conveniently than we can tell how easily Mennen's differs from others. How it makes the quickest, creamiest lather, you ever used. How it works equally well with all kinds of water, hot, cold, hard, soft. How it does not dry on the face. How it never stings. How it leaves your face feeling smooth and clean and fresh. How it soothes and makes a lather almost unnecessary. How half an ounce will lather the biggest face there is. Be sure to read the circular which is enclosed around each tube.

All the talking we can do might not convince you that Mennen's Shaving Cream is better. But we believe one trial will tell you.

On your way home to-night buy a tube of Mennen's Shaving Cream and in the morning make the experiment. By this time to-morrow you will KNOW whether we are right or wrong.

Aliens May Not Enter. Many Leading Metropolitan Hotels

It will be interesting to Canadians who know New York to learn that by the ruling of the Department of Justice of the United States enemy aliens are prohibited from residing in or visiting regions within a radius of half a mile from embassies and consulates and that after June 1st will be illegal for any German subject to enter the Plaza, the Waldorf, the Astor, the Marlborough, the McAlpin, the Marlborough, the Vanderbilt, the Park Avenue and others of the best known hotels in the city.

The cabinet restaurants and hotels of the Columbia Circle of the district and also within the law of the regulations, as are a large number of the principal theatres and many apartment houses where German reside. Hundreds of requests have been made for special permits to visit the restricted area, but it is understood that the number issued will be limited and only granted in cases of necessity.

A half-mile radius from the Seventh Regiment Armory at Park Avenue and Thirty-fourth street takes in the territory running from Madison square to the further side of the Grand Central Station, and from just east of the Pennsylvania Station almost to the East Thirty-fourth street ferry.

AUTO SKIDDED AND LANDED IN DITCH

The first automobile accident of the season took place on the Farnham Lake road on Sunday afternoon last. In the car which was driving occurred were Mr. U. A. Hubbard, owner of Farnham, who was driving, Mrs. Thos. Lindsay, and Mrs. E. B. Hubbard. They had crossed the bow creek, and were traveling on its side in the ditch. The occupants miraculously escaped serious injury, but Mrs. Lindsay was rather badly shaken up and Mrs. Hubbard had her face slightly cut. The only damage to the car was a broken wind shield—Burgess Times.

STAND with me on the summit of a Canadian Pacific Rocky Mountain. What a wondrous panorama: unfolded: not only of peaks and ranges, tier on tier, line on line, but of vast glittering fields of snow and ice, making a white world of the upper heights, a region of eternal winter; in striking contrast the flower-covered beds of the valleys a mile below us, or the green of the alpine meadows.

We are standing in a realm where rivers of the Bow, for one of the more than 100 rivers, are so numerous that these huge murky lines of ice are slowly but surely moving down the mountain slopes to their death in a terminal moraine. And while they thus travel down kill the life of the forest, they are also slowly taking the life of the land. With few exceptions they show a gradual recession which as marked in some glaciers by scientific study, huge boulders carrying the year when the toe of the glacier passed over them. The glacier in the foreground indicates the shrinking process. The Gleditsiev Glacier, for example, retreated up the valley, between 1850 and 1856, a distance of no less than

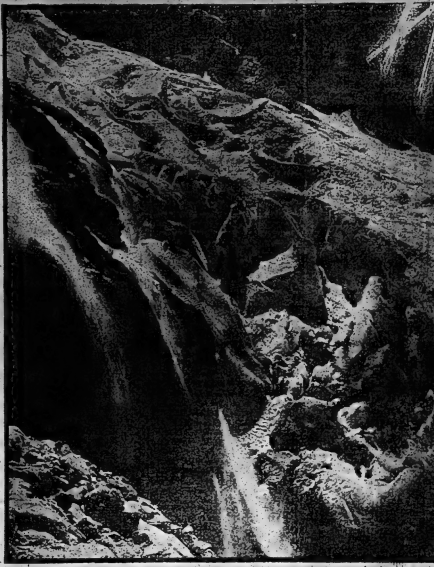

The Hellsfoot glacier, in the Selkirk, is one of the largest remaining glacial deposits in the Canadian range, a gigantic icy river of grom and white-sowing valleyward with a megalithic sweep. Longfellow's description comes to mind as one game on the scene as "a glittering giantist which the frost king has thrown in defiance of the sun," and so it seems as it glitters back its radiance from its white bosom and its crystal architecture.

Or stashed on Lefroy or Hungabee, or better still, on Temple, in the Lake Lewis region, and again the eye is held in thrall with the colossal canvas of the mountain peaks, the white glaciers, the blue lakes, the green valleys. Who will forget that aspect of the Victoria Glacier from the Lake Lewis Chailot, or the white masses on the lofty roofs of the Ten Peaks, when a full moon floods them with silver light? The sheen of a hundred sparkling glaciers makes a drapery of white and blue, and the bold, white summit of a mighty avalanche tumbling from inaccessible heights.

The wonder of the glacier is more fully realized when they are explored at close quarters, when their fantastic curves and awesome features are confronted or viewed from the edge. The climber picks his way over a mass of ice masses thrown up as if in mortal agony by the pressure of the upper movement. Yonder in the snow field from which the glacier flows, here is a "bergschrund," or the rift-looking crevasse is called that separates the glacier from the mountain side. How curious are these things like the marks of the gods, and the tongue of snow marks the end of the glacier from whence flow the melting waters that mark the birth of great rivers.

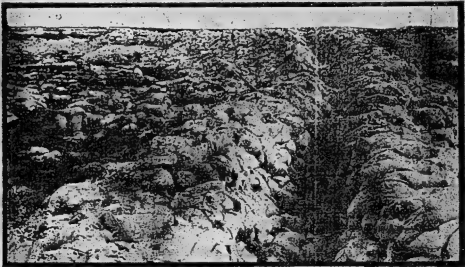

In this vast Canadian Garden of the Gods, of Rockies and Selkirk, in which scores of Switzerland could be put, nothing is more wonderful than the great glaciers ever journeying to their obliteration, ever swooping to

Tourist Traffic
Is Threatened

War Conditions Will Have Bad
Effect on the Travel Here

The war declaration by the United States against Germany and the resulting law governing the traffic conditions of the United States to Canada will be very determined effect on the tourist traffic this year.
Up to 1918, which was the first time following the war, there was an immense travel of Americans to this country. They came in large numbers to see the war, and left much money with merchants.
The decline last year had a bad effect, as most of the travelers of former years had no money financial resources as a whole to risk a long travel. This year the war will have a more serious effect.

With Conservatives in Ministry—Parsons Leaves for Second Conference With Goals

OTTAWA, June 3.—Special—After twenty-four hours of high tension and speculation, the chance for coalition look brighter tonight than at any time since the Prime Minister made his proposals to the Opposition leaders. Although the situation is still somewhat blurred by unordered speculation and confusion, there are certain signs which can be discerned as indicating a rising tide of coalition possibility. In the first place, there have been moved conferences between the Prime Minister and Sir Wilfrid Laurier. In the second place and equally encouraging for the prospects of union, is the fact that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has left for Quebec, for a second conference with the Prime Minister. The fact that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been seen by the Prime Minister has been a very important factor in the coalition movement.

People More Particular

THE demand for package goods grows greater every day. Why?

Because the world is now growing more and more particular about foods.

Packages keep the goods in wholesome, sanitary condition. They keep out dust, flies, moisture and insects, preventing decay.

They preserve flavor, freshness and strength of goods, insuring values for the money.

In Sealed Packages Only

HOW TO KEEP WELL

BY JOHN W. A. MCGILLIVRAY, M.D., D.P.H., CHIEF OFFICER OF THE PROPHYLACTIC BOARD OF HEALTH.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Said to Have Rejected the Premier's Proposals—Declaration Policy by Both Leaders to Follow

OTTAWA, June 7.—Special—Policy at announcement of the outcome of the negotiations which have been in progress between Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier for the past ten days will be made today. In the meantime neither leader has given any inkling of what the nature of the proposals will be. "Nevertheless," the report was widely circulated here last night that coalition between the Liberals and the Progressives, the two great parties, was not to be. Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier conferred again at the Prime Minister's office in the next hour or two yesterday and at the termination of the interview neither would make any statement as to the result. It was not long, however, before the rumor was current that Borden at the suggestion had conveyed to Sir Robert his rejection of the latter's proposal. The evening the two leaders again met. This time it was asserted that they were understood to agree upon a joint declaration to be made the following day. That statement will probably be followed by declaration of policy by both Sir Robert and Sir Wilfrid. The meeting of the two leaders will be followed by a declaration of policy by both Sir Robert and Sir Wilfrid. The meeting of the two leaders will be followed by a declaration of policy by both Sir Robert and Sir Wilfrid.

In the event of the failure of a joint declaration, it is asserted here that the Government will have more than its normal majority even if it were to be a coalition. It is said that the Government will have more than its normal majority even if it were to be a coalition. Mr. Edward Carson for a Man Who Does Things.

Has Paid's Confidence

Mr. Edward Carson, the Empire possesses a man of address, and ready answers by. Because he is a man who gets things done. If this year has taught us anything it has taught us the relative value of frank, the talker has gone down to the presence of the door.

Nagasaki, Oct. 1, the Premier, can talk both at and with the action. Indeed, he has an absolute dislike for mere eloquence, though when at the bar he displayed unusual gifts as an advocate and was a superb lawyer. A witness of behalf of an anxious client. It was a tongue that could say with an authority as a barrister masterly to the fact that he was a mark. And that perhaps is the assumption that he was a man of and the fact that he always known what he wanted and always was to get it.

When he entered upon his work at the Admiralty the other day he found rather than a chaotic affair. No settled policy, no determined line of action, a host of advisers and a number of heads of departments all in a hurry to do the one with the other. So he found these gentlemen and when they were to get it.

EVERY CITIZEN AN ARMY MEMBER

No Registration Provided For in Conscription Bill—Pillars to Support House

OTTAWA, June 8.—It is believed that the conscription bill which will be brought down by Sir Robert Borden on Monday, will not provide for registration.

When the bill becomes law every man between sixteen and twenty-five years of age, will be a member of the Canadian army. These men are divided into classes, and as the troops needed the classes will be called in order designated.

The first class includes single men between twenty and thirty years of age who do not answer the call to the colors will be treated as a desertion.

To judge application for exemption a court of two will be created for each county, one member of which will be named by the county or district judge and the other by the military authorities or by some body charged with authority by the Government.

There will be appeal from the first body, but such appeal will be considerably restricted. The Government will permit of immediate mobilization without delay and capture of resistance.

Laurier's Action Means Election

Control Issued With Opinion
The Issue in The Opinion of the Toronto News

TORONTO, June 8.—Great Britain went into the war slowly and steadily. Canada will enter upon the same line as the same spirit which the Yanks have in a loud, noisy, and noisy way.

The attitude of the British Government as to accept the national and general aid of the Prime Minister in political union makes a content inevitable. It will constitute the supreme test of the Government.

The experience of Great Britain has proved that conscription is essential for the complete mobilization of a national resource. Canada has reached the point when mobilization is imperative.

Mr. Wilfrid Laurier, in his refusal to accept the offer of Sir Robert Borden, or to listen to the pleas of the most patriotic element in his own party has declared for national mobilization upon political grounds.

When Sir Wilfrid is requested to fill all functions of a national leader, Canada has known no more logical failure to observe the most intense of our country.

UNION CABINET STILL POSSIBLE

Laurier No Longer a National Leader Says Leading Liberal Cabinet Reconstruction

OTTAWA, June 8.—Because of Mr. Laurier's recent statement that the military service bill was passed without delay the expectations which were built up in the public mind as to the formation of a coalition government, came to naught, when the bill was passed.

That Mr. Laurier's resignation will not mean the abandonment of the idea of reconstruction, the Ministry is agreed here and it is expected that such reconstruction is now under consideration and will not long be delayed.

It was even said, with what truth could not be ascertained, that a Union Cabinet which he formed on the same lines and on the same terms as the one he had before him would be formed.

REMARKABLE SCENES in RUSSIA; Other WAR PICTURES

In The Bow Valley

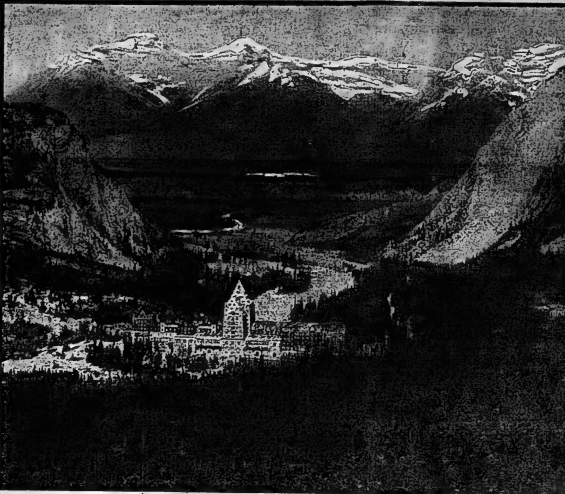

It is the heart of the Canadian that the Rocky Mountains north of the international boundary that occupies the most beautiful scenery on the North American continent, if not in the entire world.

Many travellers who have made the trip through Banff, Lake Louise, Field and points along the Canadian Pacific to the Pacific Coast declare that even the glory of the Alps is dimmed by the grandeur of the Canadian Rockies, the Canadian Rockies, scenery, and the lofty peaks of the Canadian Rockies.

From Calgary, which is the last point on the Canadian railway in the West, a line of about 1,000 feet. At the latter point, the mountains rise abruptly in great masses. For thousands of miles north and south the Gap is the only entrance where railway engineers could find an opening amenable to make possible the construction of a railway line to the Pacific coast of Canada. A bend in the railway line brings the train between two almost perpendicular walls of the mountains. Through this gateway the railway passes, and the train is at a short distance behind the traveller finds a long valley through the Park House range and the Kananaskis range opposite. Fronting among the peaks in this vicinity are Pigeon, Wolf and Three Sisters Mountains. A remarkable contrast between the ranges is very noticeable here.

To him who is unfamiliar with mountain scenery, the sight is impressive indeed, for snow-capped peaks stand and comparatively isolated, rising to heights of 8,000 feet and more, appear on all sides. Among these in the vicinity of Canmore, a region of large coal mines, are found the Three Sisters. Nearly and along the embankment of one of the deep valleys traversed by the railway are found a group of isolated and craggy mountains, conspicuous mountains called "Hoodoos"—great weathered pillars, ten times the height of a man—some of them composed of hard enough material to withstand the weather that have played havoc with the surrounding hills.

Five miles beyond Canmore the Rocky Mountains National Park of Canada is entered at Banff, with an altitude of 4,000 feet, the valley narrow suddenly and as the mountains are approached the scenery becomes grander and more awe-inspiring. The valley provides shooting up in Seven Peaks; on the left is Banff, called after an early residence of the Hudson's Bay Company in the heart of delightful Banff, where is situated one of the most magnificent hotels of the C. P. R. System.

PIGS AT LARGE.
Mr. W. E. Hall's residence on Duane Street, reported to the police on Saturday afternoon, that two small pigs were roaming about his garden. Upon investigation it was ascertained the young piggies were the property of a neighbor who secured them.

ARRIVED SAFELY.
Mrs. Hinchey is in receipt of a telegram from Bandman Hinchey which stated that the 254 Battalion had arrived safely in England. He says that all were well and wished the wives and friends to know of their safe arrival.

WEDDING BELLS.

HALL—SPRING.
Mountain View Methodist Church was on Wednesday, June 6 the scene of a large wedding, when Margery, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Spring became the bride of Mr. E. L. Hall, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hall, Mountain View. Promptly at high noon, to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Ben. Anderson, the bride entered the church, looking on the arm of her father, who gave her away. Waiting at the altar was the groom, and Mr. Clark Spring, brother of the bride, who acted as best man.

The bride was attended by Miss Edith Lander, of Mountain View, and Rev. P. J. Anderson officiated. While the register was being signed, Mrs. John Hall sang "The Sunshines of Your Smiles."
The bride was gowned in white satin draped with Georgette crepe and wore a veil of tulle trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

The bridesmaid was in pink silk and wore a hat trimmed with pink roses, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with palms, hydrangeas and mimosas.

After the ceremony, the guests to the number of about 150 retired to the social room of the church where a dainty luncheon was served.

The bride and groom were accompanied by a maid with and folk; to the bride's room, a bouquet set with anemones and gerbera; to the best man a set of cold cut links and to the pianist a bouquet.

The bride received many useful and costly gifts showing the high esteem in which she is held.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall left on the three o'clock train for western points, the bride traveling in a blue silk coat and hat, trimmed with pink roses, and carried pink roses. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Hall will reside at Mountain View. Their many friends join in wishing them many happy and prosperous years married life.

STUCK IN THE

STREET

Compulsory Railroad To Health
By "Fruit-A-Thru"

"On 1913, I was taken suddenly by Annie Sweeney Threlby and dropped in the street. I was treated by several physicians for nearly two years, and my weight dropped from 225 pounds to 110 pounds. Then a nurse of the hospital advised me to try "Fruit-A-Thru." I began to improve almost with the first dose, and by using them,
I recovered from the debility of the Sweeney Threlby and all pains and constipation were cured. Now I weigh 220 pounds, and am a healthy, vigorous man. I am a "Fruit-A-Thru" lover."—J. H. WELTMAN,

York City, and sent postpaid by Fruit Vendors Limited, Chicago.

should not have. It has made, dash, romance, youth, thrills, excitement,
big scenes and splendid nature.
It is started on a lavish scale. It has been superbly directed and the photography is perfect."

"This option is being echoed by the hundreds of thousands of people in all parts of the country who are seeing this memorable production.
They are amazed by the magnitude and immensity of the big scenes; the exciting train work and the automobile work and the exciting race at Savannah.

The people of Belleville will have the opportunity of adding their approval to the general verdict of all people who have a good entertainment.
This offering will be the attraction of Griffin's Opera House, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with matinee daily.

IMPOSSIBLE ACCOMPLISHED
In "The" the new international series of romances and melodramas, re-titled by Public, what all technical people have been unable to do, has now been accomplished. In "The"
Mr. Castle will be seen changed and changed with himself. She takes off the separate articles, leaves them on the floor, and the other hand counts by herself. This opens a door which she has been unable to open before, and it is here that the mystery is made plain, and the same door.

So the Leopold Wharton, of Wharton, Inc., professor of Wharton, which will be shown at Griffin's Opera House, and Saturday.

Use Coconut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to wash your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Do not use prepared shampoo or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle and is very harmful. Just plain coconut oil (which is pure and contains no preservatives) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing. Use this each morning before the bath. Simply massage your hair with water and rub in the oil or two times a day. It will make an abundance of rich, wavy hair, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The hair will grow easily and remove every particle of dirt, dandruff and sebum. It is a hair dress entirely and easily, and it leaves it fine and shiny, bright, happy and easy to manage.

The new and guaranteed coconut oil at most good drug stores. It is very cheap, and one penny is enough to wash the hair, in the thickest or thinnest.

Music And Drama

WHAT MAKES A FILM STAR
Mrs. Vernon Castle, the best dressed and known woman in America, is enthusiastic over her work before the motion picture camera. In "Patricia," the International serial of romance and patriotism, released by Pathe and announced to open at Griffin's tonight and Saturday.

"Many people imagine," she says, "that all one has to do to gain fame as a screen artist is to be possessed of a certain amount of grace and personal charm and exhibit them before the camera. That is a great mistake and that is why there are so many failures."

"Acting in the movies is as distinct an art, and requires as much study and perseverance as it does to be beautiful, useful and healthful art which every one should practice. It appeals to all. No better illustration of this can be found than on the streets where the children indulge their natural aptitude and delight in dancing to the music of a hardy-gurdy. Dancing is a recreation of which one never tires."

MARIE DORO IN 'LOST AND WON'

It is a custom when viewing an actress' wardrobe to rave over and admire beautiful house gowns, revel in the opera cloaks and go into ecstasies over the latest Parisian importations, but Marie Doro, the artistic Lasky star, who will be seen at Griffin's tonight and Saturday in the Paramount Picture "Lost and Won" has two articles of apparel which are always offered for inspection first. These are shoes and stockings which she wears as the ragamuffin. The shoes are squeaky, flat headed affairs which caused Miss Doro many hours of search, and were finally discovered in the general store of a small town. The stockings are inspiring black and white affairs, stripes running lengthwise, purchased by Elliot Dexter, her husband, some time ago from a peddler in the East Side district in New York, as a joke. The star being one of these young women who love to cherish keepsakes, had folded them away in a remote corner of her trunk, and when she discovered she was to play the part of a newswoman, promptly resorted them. Later in the same picture Miss Doro had an opportunity to display a number of evening gowns.

"THE WHIP"

"The Whip," said to be the greatest motion picture in the world, is coming to Griffin's next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with a matinee performance on Tuesday and Wednesday, and is assured of an enthusiastic reception, as this production has everywhere been acclaimed the masterpiece of the silent drama. When this play was originally produced on the stage, it was produced in such a massive manner that it stunted growth for years to come. Now that the motion pictures have taken it up, it is being shown in an even more startlingly realistic manner than it was shown on the stage.

FATTY ARBUCKLE

A splendid programme of photoplays is announced for presentation at the Palace tonight and Saturday matinee and night, when Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, appears in a highly amusing 3 part comedy entitled "His Wife's Mistake." This comedy is said to be brimful of side-splitting incidents from start to finish. Jane Grey and William Desmond also appear on the same program in a five part human interest story, entitled "Wait's".

MAY SOUND THE VOTERS

OTTAWA, June 14.—In the Commons yesterday afternoon Premier Borden promised consideration would be given the request of certain members to visit their constituencies to sound public opinion before the Military Service bill was finally passed. The Premier stated an announcement would be made shortly regarding changes in Robert Temperance bill of last session.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier called attention to a report that the commission appointed to enquire into the Galt charges made against Hon. Robert Rogers was now sitting in Montreal.

The Prime Minister stated that he understood this to be so.

"Is it public or private?" asked Sir Wilfrid.

"I do not know," replied Sir Robert, "The Minister of Justice can tell."

BEFORE THE GRAND JURY

In the Xing vs. Boyle, charged with arson, the Grand Jury is considering the case, but at the time of going to press had not brought in any bill. This case concerns the burning of a hotel in Trenton, and consideration at this court has been delayed owing to the absence of witnesses. Detectives, who have the evidence to be presented, have been detained at another court, hence the delay. One witness arrived yesterday, and is being heard.

ONTARIO'S FRUIT CROP

Not Above Average In Niagara District—Apple Yield Is Poor.

OTTAWA, June 14.—There is not likely to be a particularly heavy crop of fruit in the Niagara Peninsula this year. Representatives of the Dominion fruit branch at Ottawa were through the district last week and report.

Peaches are a fairly good crop along the Niagara River and around St. Catharines, but at Grimsby, Winoona and Stony Creek the crop is lighter and will probably be further produced by "leaf curl" which is extremely prevalent. Pears, plums and cherries have set for a good crop. Apples are almost a failure in Niagara, and reports from other sections of Ontario indicate a light crop generally. Strawberries are light in the Clarkson-Burlington section, but promise much better east of Hamilton to the Niagara River.

The help situation in Niagara is not so serious as has been generally supposed. The orchards are being cleaned up, and the fruit is being well cared for, and appear to be in excellent condition. Many girls have offered their services to assist in harvesting the crop. The season has been very much delayed by continued cold weather and, blossoms were about two weeks later than usual in coming out.

Speaking in a general way, the Niagara fruit crop will not be above average, and the Ontario apple crop is certain to be light and quite possibly of poor quality. The spring weather has been very favorable to the development of apple scab, and unless orchards have been well sprayed, the fruit will be seriously affected.

FALSE RUMORS ARE REFUTED

The Facts in Connection With The Recent Burning of the

Evaporator Plant

To The Editor of The Intelligencer:

that their car was used to my knowledge. I have no way of knowing whether or not some member of my Company or someone interested in our behalf caused the destruction by fire of our buildings in Belleville recently and that the goods burned were largely stock that had been rejected by the Government, that it was for interest and have these buildings burned, and be credited by the fire.

I think it will do no harm to place facts before the public so far as we know them.

There is no doubt in my mind that the fire was the work of an incendiary, and so far we have been unable to locate the guilty party. The Provincial Government through their Fire Marshal Department have been actively engaged since the fire in showing up all cases available, in finding out where rumors and so far as possible to get the persons who are spreading the rumors and to get them out of the country. I have not completed their work.

Regarding our loss, we do not know that the buildings cost as they were built by me at different times, and the cost was not entered in our books. But we do know they will cost us to rebuild many times the $18,500.00 for which they were insured. The same thing applies to the machinery, which insured for $3500.00. With regard to the stocks, our losses in this line were proved to the satisfaction of the underwriters to be $146,000.00 and the insurance was $101,500.00. Besides this actual loss, we indirectly lost a very large amount in replacing the shed potatoes and onions that were burned and we are still drying in sevall of our factories these vegetables extremely high prices to fill our contracts for the dried product. All which will be completed within the time specified in our contracts and at the prices agreed upon with the ex-tion of 300,000 pounds of dried potatoes, which were burned and most of which were packed ready to move out to our troops in India, and were being held for shipping instructions from the British War Office. For this reason, they were good enough to cancel the order for these 300,000 pounds. Otherwise all of our contracts, since the war began, have been filled exactly as specified and within the time limited, for which we, both the British and French Governments have complimented us. Nei-have either of these Governments rejected a compromise which would have placed the ships shipped them nor has been a pound shipped back to us, nor any reduction in price been made asked by them. Neither was there of value of inferior quality goods which fact is well known to hundreds of our employees.

butchery like so many cattle, whose only use is to satisfy the appetite of its master. And no one speaks of breaking this odious regime which binds us to the chariot wheels of the conqueror. In fact, no one seems to have thought of it. How sweet it would be, in fact, to live in a Lower Canada, yet subject as at present to the British grown. The qualities of our race would then develop normally on the banks of this beautiful St. Lawrence, a country extending from the Ottawa to the Atlantic, and administered by a French-Canadian majority possessing the power to make all our laws, to treat with foreign countries, to fix our customs tariff, to control our immigration, our navigation, and our means of transportation.

"This is not a hasty movement without head or tail, but a new political constitution based on our superior interests and our inalienable rights. The time, therefore, to plough the soil and to sow this immortal grain has come.

WAR PROSPERITY

Lessons From The American Civil War

DURING the year 1861 Canada added more than two hundred millions of dollars to its wealth. The production of wheat, the staple of the country, was increased during that period from 140 to 180,000,000 bushels. The production of other staples, such as lumber, iron, and steel, was also increased. The year 1861 was a year of great prosperity for Canada. The reason for this was the American Civil War. The war in America created a great demand for Canadian goods. The American people were buying Canadian goods in great quantities. This created a great market for Canadian goods. The Canadian people were able to take advantage of this market. They were able to produce goods in great quantities and sell them at a profit. This was the reason for the prosperity of Canada in 1861. The same lesson can be learned from the American Civil War. The war in America created a great demand for Canadian goods. HOW TO MAKE A GOOD HAIR TONIC AT HOME

If you have been using hair tonic purchased read-made at the drug store you can probably save money and get a great hair tonic by making the following recipe which has been remarkably successful in stopping loss of hair and making new hair grow on bald spots. All these ingredients can be obtained from any well stocked drug store. In applying be sure to rub the tonic right into the scalp as its ability to penetrate the scalp depends upon its ability to reach the hair roots.

SIR ARTHUR CURRIE COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE CANADIAN FORCES

Notable Career of Canadian Officer Who Has Been Given Command of Canada's Army at the Front—Born in Middlesex County, Ontario

Canadian Headquarters in France (via London), June 31.—Sir Arthur Currie, who has been acting Commander in Chief of the Canadian Forces, Sir Julian Byng, left has been authorized to take over the command of the Canadian Army at the front. Sir Arthur came to France with the original Canadian overseas contingent as a lieutenant, and has had part in all major engagements of the corps. The appointment greatly pleases the men to his command. He is the first Canadian to command the corps. His predecessor, General Alderson and Byng, were both imperial officers of long service and distinction.

BORN IN CANADA
Major-General Currie was born forty-two years ago in the village of Bradford, in Middlesex county, two miles west of the town of Bradford, and got by from the dividing line between Middlesex and Lanham county.

The son of William Currie and Jane Gurney, he was educated at the Brockville Collegiate Institute, and the age of eighteen he left Ontario to seek his fortune in British Columbia. Arriving at Victoria in 1882, he secured a position in the Victoria Police Department, and in 1884 he was appointed to the position of teacher at the school of that village. After some time in this position he entered the real estate business, and in 1891 he came back to the firm of Currie & Co., real estate agents, Victoria, B.C.

ALWAYS A MILITARY MAN
While in British Columbia he identified himself with the military life of the Canadian Garrison Artillery, and in 1891 he served for fourteen years in the 1st Battalion of the Victoria Regiment in Victoria, B.C., and in 1895 he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant.

He took a keen interest in all matters affecting the military, and soon became Lieutenant-Colonel of his regiment, the 10th Battalion of the Victoria Regiment. He also became President of the British Columbia Military Association in 1907, and retained that position for several years. His military life was not without its share of adventures. He was once shot in the leg by a bullet from a machine gun, and once he was shot in the arm by a bullet from a machine gun.

He married in 1901 Miss L. R. Currie, daughter of the late Mr. Currie, a Liberal, an Anglican, and a member of the Masonic Order.

AMONG FIRST TO VOLUNTEER
Major-General Currie was among the first Canadians to volunteer for active service when the "war broke out, and immediately orders were received the Canadian volunteers mobilized at Vancouver he enlisted with his Highland regiment for the war.

PETERHEDRA, June 31.—Marshall T. H. More than fifteen hundred persons killed and eight hundred women have been arrested.

There are few Canadians who do not know the part taken by the Canadians in the second battle of Ypres, their first big engagement after leaving Flanders. General Currie's brigade, which was in the hardest fighting of that battle, was composed of the 1st, 7th, 8th and 11th battalions. His command was such that the King made him a Commander of the Order of the Bath, Legion of Honour and the Cross de Guerre.

OTTAWA, June 31.—Mr. Hugh Guthrie's outright opposition to the federalism has been a direct effect upon two opinions. While Mr. Guthrie said in his address that there would be no question of withdrawing support from the conscription bill until there is a Government pledge of conscription of wealth, this was not interpreted as indicating his intention to support the bill. He will vote against the bill.

Interest in conscription is a religion has been revived by the fact that a party Government may be formed. The suggestion is that a coalition party be formed with the Canadian Party as its basis. The suggestion is that a coalition party be formed with the Canadian Party as its basis.

which exists in the Liberal party will be revealed in the House on the second reading. Neither Liberal faction will get credit for the liberality of its intentions. (The public will say that they tried to leave meeting the issue and only took the straight forward course when no other way was open to them.)

The immediate concern of the Free Press is that, in a matter of this kind there should be no end of evasion, and a frank acceptance of the realities of the situation; that this is a real war, there is no make-believe about the fighting in France. The casualness methods that come in to homes of the people record the death or mutilation of real people.

It is the essence of reality to say that our armies at the front will be destroyed unless they are reinforced from home, or are protected by the soldiers of other countries which have neither the resources nor political difficulties in the way of compulsory service. The proposition before the Canadian Parliament is that the methods which have been tried, save one, shall be resorted to here to secure additional reinforcements. It is not a clear-cut, intelligible proposition. It ought to be accepted or rejected in principle, in order, in either case, that the next available step may be taken. Instead of this promissory there is the prospect of weeks of shadowing and guessing at Ottawa.

Current Comment

The sacrifice of the boys in the trenches paid all the sacrifices involved in conscription.

The spectacle of Mr. Frank Oliver who is in favor of conscription, recommending the referendum of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the anti-conscriptionist, shows what strange bedfellows politics make.

Laurier could be no German nurse and prevented Canada being recognized in the great war battle the war with three super-dreadnoughts. He is still kind and he still may see no danger to Canada from Germany. No wonder patriotic Canadians are so hostile to his blind leadership.

The only able opposition to conscription has come from the province of Quebec. Most the brave boys in the trenches and the Quebec minority have an opportunity of force, by employing their opposition before inflammatory speeches and riotous actions in a referendum campaign as proposed by Laurier.

The Toronto Telegram had a significant section in Tuesday's issue, preparing H. G. P. Graham, director of the conscription in Ontario. On the side of the hearing is an article "conscription of everything except the person" by Mr. McDonald, editor of The Globe and G. S. Atkinson, editor of The Star, who holds their strongly in the matter—editorial of "It's a fine thing" and "The drawing card" by Mr. McDonald and Mr. Atkinson, who in "With Stella where that."

Some of the Liberal papers, outside of Quebec, freely express their dissatisfaction with the conditions created by Laurier, although some of them qualify their criticisms with the usual "Strong Liberal paper" of Sir Robert Borden and his followers. At best Laurier is having a stormy time and his course meets approval in only a small section of Canada, his beloved Quebec.

A brave fight has been waged by the Manitoba Free Press, the leading Liberal newspaper of Western Canada, to keep the Liberal party from being wrecked on the rocks of little-Canadaism, but with small success in choice of Laurier's ears to the voice of Quebec.

The Free Press speaks as follows on the Laurier amendment to the Conscription Bill:

Politically it is difficult to see how the moving of this amendment will be in the future can be of service to its fate. The Government will have no alternative but to go to the country. The Government will be clear; but the Opposition will be in the position of having to go by a parliamentary vote. It avoided the necessity of registering its views. This would do the Liberal who was anti-conscription no harm, but it would put the Liberal members who favor conscription in an impossible position. By the fact that the Government should be amended, the whole Liberal party, however vociferously the members who are in opposition might protest their opinion, would be definitely committed by the rejection of the measure on its second reading, to the policy of opposition to conscription. Liberal members who favor the principle of the right to register their vote for this amendment must, if, on the other hand, the Government is to be destroyed.

OTHER VIEWS

LAURIER'S LOST OPPORTUNITY

The Hamilton Times (Liberal) Sir Wilfrid Laurier has lost the opportunity of his life—show his devotion to the highest ideal in the Empire by intervening to prevent the immediate application of conscription to the majority of his subjects in the light of his integrity and loyalty, and would rather than come. But if we all present to make the experiment, the same man would not be so much as cannot be denied.

A PHILODELPHIA VIEW

(Philadelphia Inquirer.)

It is a very curious thing that after three years of warning, we should not our safety only to the prepared value of other nations and risk in the small ring degree to our own.

Between us and a relentless foe, for us, there stands a line of battle in the Atlantic Ocean. On the sea to the English navy. Facing the forces of the anti-imperialist military autonomy are Frenchmen and Englishmen. For nearly three years they have been, holding, and against the most barbarous force since the days of the Hussar. Let alone the Canadian and French forces on the coast and the United States will be in danger.

It is a very curious thing that the easy-going citizens of the United States are realising a situation that has been existing for years. They have realized in their innocent child-like way that the United States is in danger.

Emerald Lake

and Vicinity

EMERALD Lake is a new name at Belleville, in the vicinity of Fred. It is a bit of Paradise on down the bay of Mt. Burgess and holds a record with tall, slender "jack" pines, scattered from the green waters by a red-brown path running all around, and here and there a mossy rock tower. Surely here the most beautiful scene might well be seen. Emerald Lake is the most beautiful of the most popular chalets. The view from Fred's station to this end "emerald" is about nine miles through miles of pines. The town's history is an impressive thing and holds no "unimpeachable" history. There was the summit to be crossed and the Yoho Valley beyond with Teahakwa Falls, and trails permitting, the Wapiti for miles. Fred is a railway divisional point. It will go down in history as such, for every person who mentions it makes the statement. But Fred has "greater things to its credit. It is the spot of the start of the post, for the Yoho Valley and the Wapiti for miles. Mt. Burgess, for example, has a fine view of the town. The river runs past the front door, and Mt. Burgess beyond. The perspective made by the Government in building roads through the Rocky Mountains is enormous. One had to see them, to travel over them, to realize what a stupendous task this road construction is. One may ask: "Why build roads in the mountains at all?" These bits of mountain scenery made accessible by means of roads and trails are the means of bringing thousands and thousands of tourists, both native and foreign, to the Rockies every year and in the same ratio as the tourist traffic increases, the mountains become more valuable as a national asset. It is to encourage this traffic that the Government builds and extends the mountain roads and trails each year. Many a tourist traveler, both to have till he has covered every carriage road, trail and footpath, some of which are there by accident, such as one would like to think that a few at least were relics of the savage men of yesterday. The Government or the railways have had a hand in making them all, and without their efforts, even the most ambitious traveler would be deprived of such pleasure as to be enjoyed from the top of the Canadian Rockies.

HOW I MET MY WIFE

By F. A. MITCHEL.

One morning on going downstairs at my hotel for breakfast I stepped up to the office and asked for my mail. The clerk handed me some letters, among which was a tiny missive addressed to me in a feminine hand. On opening it I found a card bearing the name and address of Miss Alice Bainsford. Who Miss Bainsford was I did not know. I thought that she was some young lady whom I had met and asked to be so kind when she visited the city where I lived. One thing I was very careful about. I did not recognize her when we met. I must admit that I did not remember her name either. When I called on Miss Bainsford she was not at home. I left my card and the next morning received a note from her regretting that she had not met me and would be pleased to have me call again. She was not sure that I would remember her name in so long we had passed that pleasant summer together at Shelburne Springs. Doubtless we had both greatly changed and she was a little older. I had passed a summer at Shelburne Springs when I was seventeen years of age. I was then a handsome boy and had now a man of twenty-eight with a small beard of which I was quite proud. I had met a number of young girls there, but had forgotten the names of most of them.

The next time I called a young lady came into the room with whose appearance I was superficially pleased. She looked at me quizzically, as though not quite certain as to my identity. I had no recollection of her whatever, but, recognizing my facial expression, clasped her profusion of hair in both of mine, saying:

"What a pleasure to meet again one with whom I passed so many happy hours."

"But—how you have changed awfully."

"Aren't you?" I asked very much. You have developed into quite a man. I should never have recognized you if I had not known you were."

"Yes, you have developed, but you have the same girlish face and figure. You certainly have not lost anything of your beauty."

"You were a slight personable little girl."

"Here you lean to Shelburne Springs. I asked, 'where that happy summer we passed together there?'"

"Oh, yes, we have been there every summer for ten years."

"Is the beauty still under the tree beside the creek?"

"I was looking her in the face when I asked this question, she down at my feet, which she continued to toy with. She raised her eyes to mine with a quick glance, then lowered them again. I had done a lot of spooning on that bench, and her action on my mentioning it convinced me that I had made love to her there."

"I dare say," I said, "you have forgotten our sitting there and all about it."

"It is so surprising that you remember it."

"Oh, yes, men are very forgetful. It's five years since that evening. You left the next day and have never seen me since. Doubtless you have met some handsome young fellow other girls and said what you said to me."

I did not lose completely struck with Miss Bainsford. I might have replied evasively. As it was, I told her that I felt the same—only more so.

"I felt at that momentous interview. When she asked me why she had never heard from me in the meanwhile I called her attention to the fact that I was then a boy and she was a girl of a girl. What business had we to follow up that which led straight to marriage? She saw no propriety in my young man's living. Her own words convinced me of very little."

While I had no remembrance whatever of Miss Bainsford, I certainly developed a case of quick love. I called upon her several times a week—that is, I was not making one out to atmosphere. She was making a race to friends, which she prolonged and when she departed we were engaged in a long conversation. I had never seen her before, but I had met her at Shelburne Springs. Of course, I did not know her name, but I had no recollection of her name. I had no recollection of her name. I had no recollection of her name.

In due time we were married. One day, only a few weeks after our first marriage, when I returned from business in the evening, I found my wife had been killed by a car. I was with her when she was killed. With difficulty I persuaded her to admit me and my wife's mother. I saw the name of the car.

Alfred Jones is not my name. I saw the name of the car when I had met her. When a woman has loved a man for years and then married another thinking that other to be her real almost new love, it is a difficult matter to get her over the shock. But I had an advantage in our being married and if we had not been I doubt if the original could have clung me. I confessed, patient, and I don't know how I can look about it.

Although often blindness is hereditary, according to a British scientist, it is transmitted to children only by mothers, and never by fathers.

Coming in Out of the Wind. There is an amusing story by Al. Alden which suggests the possible of the phrase "It does not hurt enough to come in out of the wind." According to the extraordinary grammarian referred to, a town in Greece under stress of evil circumstances borrowed money from a rich man, who took as security for the loan a portrait on the market place. His was not an ungenerous creditor, for when it rained he caused the town clerk to announce that the climate had permitted him to take refuge under the colonnade. Strangers visiting the town who failed to have the matter properly explained to them were so impressed by the extraordinary circumstances that they crowded around the clerk thinking that the people were so stupid that they had to be told when it rains it is out of the wind.

Early Insurance. William Gibson of London is said to have been the first man to have his life insured. On Nov. 15, 1502, he secured a contract with eight men by the terms of which he was to have his life insured for £100 for one year for 1 per cent of the annual. In 1503 a resident of a Connecticut city was traveling in England and became interested in the workings of accident insurance for travelers. He so came home and presented the first accident insurance policy in America. His first client was a resident of Hartford, whom he insured for $5,000 against injury to his stock from the condition to his home. Mr. Gibson's name is given to the early part of the nineteenth century and comes from Glasgow.

Curious Death Customs in Fiji. The Fijians believe that in case a marvellous peace or nation dies without having gone through with the subsequent funeral and that ceremony of the limbs his or her soul is doomed to wander about forever in a stormy tormented region between heaven and hell.

When any one dies, women or children, the limbs are placed in a basket of the corpse, the limbs to be placed in the two which stand as a guidepost to point out the road that leads to heaven and the one that leads to hell—London Mail.

The Reasons for Studebaker's Leadership

STUDEBAKER is supreme in Canada because Studebaker Cars stand up and give the service.

The Series 15 Studebakers are even better than the Series 17.

They are maintaining the leadership the Series 17 established throughout the Dominion.

Because they embody ninety distinct improvements in mechanical construction, convenience and comfort over the Series 17.

Because they offer all the improvements, all the refinements suggested by four years' close study of the performance of 500,000 Studebaker Cars in actual service in every part of the world.

In them Studebaker gives you the QUALITY that stands up and gives service under the hardest tests on Canadian roads.

In them the many economies made possible by vast resources, the savings obtained through the development of steadily improved manufacturing methods and the installation of the latest and best labor saving machinery are turned to your advantage.

That is why Studebaker is able to offer you at good a car at so low a price.

That is why the Studebaker is a most economical car to buy.

It is economical to operate because Studebaker "made-in-Canada" quality reduces upkeep its lowest possible terms.

It is economical to drive because of great line economy in ratio to power, because of tire economy in ratio to weight and carrying capacity—Studebaker owners frequently from 8,000 to 10,000 miles on a single set of tires.

It is economical to own, because it brings very high second-hand value in case of resale or trade-in.

For these reasons you owe it to yourself to investigate the Canadian-built Studebaker before you buy a car.

Let us give you a Studebaker demonstration today.

he made to have the new taxes imposed, having said that those who have held closely to their dollars while others contributed liberally to the various funds for patriotic purposes, and it is this, he said, that everyone who is taxed except those affected, who constitute a very small minority in patriotic Canada.

CHARLES LAURIE NOT BELL.
 (Montreal.)—Astonished that the Liberal Government should have the audacity to call the late Sir Charles Laurier a "bell" in the eyes of the Canadian people, the following editorial is published in the Montreal Star:

DRAWING THE CURTAIN.

"More in sorrow than in anger" the Liberal leaders in Parliament are administering the last rites over the political leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and in leaving him alone to glod down the lonely furrow of provincialism with his Quebec supporters, turning his back on a great national issue at the sight of little Canadians whose viewpoints are restricted to their own political horizon, they are drawing the curtain on his political grave and are liberally sprinkled with such kind-ly thoughts as "reversed laurel," "a good national figure," etc. All this seemingly plausible farewells, however, serves but to hide the sting of the leader's desertion of his country on the most important political question which has ever confronted Canada.

The Liberal press, however, does not seek to hide its displeasure at Laurier's refusal to join a coalition government, and his opposition to conscription. Comments by the Liberal press on Sir Wilfrid's attitude are not followed by Sir Wilfrid's speech in the House of Commons, June 27, 1917, in which he said: "The Government believes that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a man of a noble mind, and in the course that he is advocating."

It is not for the reason that there is no excuse for it, and the only reason it can be given is that the confusion of a country already sufficiently confused and in a state of an emergency which affords no time for delay."

Kitchener Telegraph: "When, however, the Liberal leader, who appears a measure in which are embodied with slight modification the principles of the Allies, after which has been the law of Canada since Confederation, on the international ground that Canada is not in danger, the Telegraph cannot agree with him."

Winning Free Press: "It is not necessary at this moment to speculate on the political consequences of this complete betrayal by their English provincials in Parliament of those who have been the backbone of the English provinces, who demand the employment in connection not only for obtaining men for the battle field, but also for securing money to carry on the war. Plainly they will have to consider their position with a single eye to their duty to their country. Every day that nothing these days outside the atmosphere in Ottawa where apparently it moves every thing."

THE MONEY SLACKERS.

In nearly every community there are people, many of whom have dodged their responsibilities in regard to contributions for patriotic purposes despite the fact that Canada's blood and treasure are being poured out in unmitigated measure to protect the property of Canadians from German confiscation and their persons from indignity and slavery."

Sir Thomas White, in his recent speech in the House of Commons, on the conscription bill, was informed that an effort would be made to have the new taxes imposed, having said that those who have held closely to their dollars while others contributed liberally to the various funds for patriotic purposes, and it is this, he said, that everyone who is taxed except those affected, who constitute a very small minority in patriotic Canada.

COAL MUST BE MINED.
 After a string of several gales threatened to seriously curtail the output of coal, the Dominion Government has taken over the coal mines in the Atlantic provinces, which have been tied up by labor trouble. All efforts to bring about a settlement between the men and the operators having failed, the Government determined that the mines should not remain idle and thus cause a coal famine in the west this winter, and an Order-in-Council was passed, appointing commissioners to operate the mines, allowing only a fair profit to the operators.

The cessation of coal production on account of the strike threatened serious consequences throughout the Dominion, and the Government is to be commended.

Current Comment.
 The trouble which has become rampant among the men in the trenches and fight the Huns with shot and shell. When the women feel compelled to leave the home to help defeat the German monster, they are to be commended.

THE BOYS OF THE SOIL

"The Boys of the Soil" built up the whole nation.
These boys, who are known as the "Boys of the Soil," are the ones who are doing the most important work in the world. They are the ones who are producing the food that we eat, and the clothes that we wear. They are the ones who are building up the nation, and making it a better place to live in.

THE BOYS OF THE SOIL

37 High School, Boys of Belleville District Awarded Farm Service Medal

The Ontario Government, for the purpose of encouraging boys to work upon farms, especially during the summer holidays, has in a certain number made it a part of the military service of the country. It has been termed "Soldiers of the Soil," and "Farm Service Corps." Every boy engaged in this important branch of work is the recipient of a button or badge from the Government, and has wearing at the City Hall a number of Belleville boys, who at present are young farmers, were presented with their badge of honor.

There were a number of parents of the boys and others present at the "presentation" ceremony. Present, as to the gathering being called, only the boys who occupied the central part of the hall, occupied the proceedings with a number of songs, which were much appreciated.

Major Nicholson said that the boys and others present at the "presentation" ceremony. Present, as to the gathering being called, only the boys who occupied the central part of the hall, occupied the proceedings with a number of songs, which were much appreciated.

VOL. 12

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1917

No. 12

REMARKABLE SCENES ON THE WESTERN FRONT

covering methods of the United Fruit Company (too lengthy to be sent) and (very) are sent north, mostly to the United States. Their headquarters are at Montreal, which is the principal apple shipping station.

By the greater portion of Nova Scotia apples is exported to Great Britain, the principal market being London. In the year 1911, which was a record season, almost 1,000,000 barrels of apples were marketed. All that time Nova Scotia fruit was introduced in the British Empire. There is every indication that shipments to those markets will be increased, inasmuch as the Government has taken steps at a time when the growing season is in progress to encourage Canadian fruit. A growing trade in apples is being developed between America and British Africa, corresponding proportionately to the trade in apples between British Columbia and Australia.

It is rather interesting to note that the apple barrel sent to Nova Scotia contains only 94 quarts as compared with the 119 quart barrel of Ontario. The Canadian Government regulations call for a minimum size of 94 quarts and Nova Scotia has adopted that minimum. The difference in the size of the barrel must therefore be always taken into consideration when comparing the prices of Ontario and Nova Scotia apples in any particular market.

It is impossible to single out any variety of apple which is most generally grown in Nova Scotia. Several varieties are grown locally. Undoubtedly the province is most famous for its Greening, which is the variety that is most extensively raised in the Annapolis Valley. About 15 per cent of the apples marketed in Nova Scotia are Greenings. It is a tender, early fall apple, usually harvested between September 10th and 15th, and should be consumed under ordinary conditions by the end of October. If stored in a suitable cellar it will keep in prime condition until Christmas.

APPLE GROWING IN NOVA SCOTIA

THERE is no part of Canada where apple production is more extensively carried on than in the Annapolis Valley of Nova Scotia. The principal reason for this, apart from the fact that soil and climatic conditions are favorable, is that practically all of the large commercial orchards are situated in a continuous and closely connected chain. The Valley is about 100 miles in length, with an average width of 8 miles. There are about 60 shipping stations in that area, all being on the main line of the Dominion Atlantic Railway with the stations at Halifax. Consequently the facilities for shipping and for export are perfect.

There is one other reason for the success with which fruit growing is carried on in Nova Scotia, and that is the systematic manner in which the fruit is marketed. One or two of the entire apple crop is marketed and marketed exclusively by particular sections of the commercial association, and all these subsidiary associations are members of the main selling association, the United Fruit Commission. All of the fruit marketed by this organization is uniformly packed in accordance with specific grading rules and marketed under the brand of the master and the body. The details concerning the
